The State of Montana 457(b) Deferred Compensation Plan offers several great features to help participants plan for their future in retirement.

No Cost to Employers

There are no fees for employers to participate in the 457(b) Deferred Compensation Plan. Employees of participating employers have the option to choose to participate in the plan. There is no minimum number of participating employees required to enroll.

State of Montana Retirement Board Oversight

The State of Montana Public Employee's Retirement Board (PERB) is an independent board appointed by the Governor to oversee the Plan. The PERB serves as trustee for the 457(b) Plan and is responsible for preparing required reporting for the Plan. Additional benefits of this oversight include:

- Fiduciary and administrative responsibilities are assumed by the PERB, removing the duties from your local office.
- Oversight of investment options is contracted by PERB with an independent investment consultant who reviews non-proprietary investments options for the Plan.

Competitive Administrative Fees

As one of the largest voluntary retirement programs in the State of Montana, the Plan has greater leverage to negotiate lower administrative fees for participants. Lower fees mean more of your employees' contributions can stay invested in their account.

Diverse Investment Options

Your employees can choose from many different investment options when you save in the 457(b), including target date funds and core funds — which you can view at www.MPERAdcplans.com.
